It is said that the planing mill of L. E. Woodard is the oldest one in Michigan.

Garrison Bros., of Vernon, paid the farmers $40,000 for butter and eggs last year.

E. A. Fox, of Elsie, was granted a certificate as a pharmacist at the recent examination in Bay City.

There are twice as many daily Tribunes taken in Banerist as there are copies of the Detroit Free Press.

The Shiawassee County Farmers Institute at Durand February 17 and 18. The program will be published later.

A private letter from Prof. A. J. Cook in California where he is spending the winter, speaks in glowing terms of that country.

The drug store of G. B. Howe at North Star was destroyed by fire last week. Mr. Howe formerly resided in this city.

The Household Specialty Co. reports business as quite lively. They received an order this week for a carload of mop handles.

An advance agent for Barnum & Bailey's show was in Owosso, Tuesday, contracting for bill boards. He says the show will visit Owosso in 1892.

The Y. M. C. A. district conference will be held at Alma, beginning Friday of next week. Owosso will probably be represented by a good delegation.

Harry Date at the Methodist church has been drawing a large number of people to his revival services. An excellent chorus choir assists in these meetings.

The Farmers Alliance at Morris last week elected the following officers: Chas. Service, president; Frank Savage, vice president; Henry Allen, secretary; Mrs. Rachel Beardsley, treasurer.

The morning service at the Congregational church, "Some Definitions of a Christian Church." The evening service will be a song service under Mr. C. C. Duff's leadership with double quartette choir.

The Y. M. C. A. is preparing to hold a grand mass meeting for men next Sunday, in which the city pastors are expected to participate, and Evangelist Harry Date deliver an address. The music will be made especially interesting. Plan to attend.

Hot air from the furnace in THE TIMES office set fire to the floor adjoining the register Saturday evening. Harry Howard, THE TIMES pressman in the office at the time, discovered the smoke and with some assistance extinguished the fire before serious damage was done.

The Cornua Journal has been looking up the marriage license business and finds that 321 licenses were granted last year and 38 divorces were granted by the court within the same time. All of which shows that marriage in every eight cases succeeded and in the ninth instance was a failure.

THE TIMES edition for several weeks past has been 83 quires in addition to supplement. The supplement was omitted in the count of paper used. THE TIMES has the largest circulation of any paper in Shiawassee county, has more presses, more type and employs double the force of any other paper.

St. Johns Independent: Bert Brown, a former St. Johns boy, who for the past two years has been traveling in the west, except the past six months, which have been spent in a photograph gallery in Ottumwa, Iowa, has returned to his home and friends and will settle permanently in a gallery in Owosso.

Experience social at the Baptist chapel, Wednesday evening, Feb. 3rd, unique, indescribable, full of the amusing and thrilling! Preparations under way for a month. Forty to fifty ladies engaged. A rare treat in store. Music will be added to the evening's enjoyment. All are cordially welcome. Admission 10 cents.

Rev. J. D. Miller at the Methodist church in the Y. M. C. A. lecture course drew a large audience to learn of "The uses of Ugliness." Mr. Miller is a homely, unpretentious gentleman, who opens up his mouth and lets flow a superb address. Miller's good nature and appeal to all that ennobles, carries the audience with him irresistibly.

M. L. Stewart & Co. bid in the crockery stock of D. W. Watters at the chattel mortgage sale yesterday. Considerable excitement was occasioned by the appearance of Treasurer Murphy at the sale with several men to seize a part of the stock in payment of the taxes. After a lively skirmish Mr. M. succeeded in securing two large tables full of goods.

The Charlotte Republican is to be congratulated on winning the libel suit for $5,000 damages brought against it by a supervisor who thought he had been injured by articles published charging him with taking fees which he was not entitled to. Judge Hooker decided in this case that a supervisor cannot legally receive pay or mileage for any committee work done while the board is not in session. The case was hotly contested with able attorneys on each side, occupying five and a half days' time. It took the jury three-quarters of an hour to decide on their righteous verdict.

Grand Rapids Democrat: George M. Dewey, the veteran Owosso editor, has a lot of nice, early seedling obituaries on hand that are the pride of his heart. A few days ago another Owosso man bearing Dewey's name was thoughtless enough to die and all the editors who had ever said anything mean about George M. in the excitement of argument stopped the press to strew flowers of sorrowful eloquence all over the family burial lot. Mr. Dewey frankly admits that he never knew before how good a man could be and still run a newspaper.

Miss Mary Crugher, for several years past housekeeper for W. M. Kilpatrick, met with a severe accident Wednesday afternoon. She had been at work during the afternoon cleaning a dress with a fluid containing gasoline. Finishing this she used a little of the fluid to clean the front of the dress she had on. In a short time she went to the stove to take up the supper from the oven. In a moment her dress burst into flames and then her hands. She started at once for the door, fighting the flames to keep them off her face, and as soon as she could get out laid down in a bank of snow, and with the help of Will Kilpatrick, who was attracted by her screams, the fire was put out. Both hands were terribly burned, one side of her face slightly burned, her lips blistered, eye lashes and brows and the front of her hair scorched off. The wounds on her hands were very painful. It was a close call and the wonder is that she escaped with as little injury as she did.

THE TIMES circulation this week is 83 quires.

The burning out of a chimney at the Exchange called out the fire department, Wednesday.

Dr. Cowles, of Durand, has been drawn as a juror for the February term of the U. S. court.

Edward Baxter Perry, the eminent blind pianist and lecturer, will appear in this city in a few weeks.

State Secretary H. M. Clarke was in Owosso last evening consulting the board of directors relative to a successor for Secretary Lohnes. He recommended two men either of whom he thought would fill the place admirably. No decision was reached.

John Secord agreed to clear up a certain piece of land, for Frank Weldman, in Owosso township, and received in payment therefor a team of mules. Secord jumped the job before completion and sold the team. The mules were replevined and Secord has been arrested.

H. B. Dewey writes that the weather is still warm and like June at Tacoma, Washington. The pansies are in blossom and the small boy goes barefoot. The one drawback to the country is the continuous rain at this season of the year, raining almost every day. Mr. Dewey was elected vice president of the state teachers association at a recent meeting.

The Independent and Republican of St. Johns published the same day are respectively democratic and republican politically. The Independent contains Tarsney's West Point cadetship notice and the Republican does not. The Cornua Journal published the same day as the Owosso Press and opposite in politics has no notice of the examination. The Republican papers do not seem to be in it.

Mr. Hixenbotham, one of the architects of the Congregational church, was in the city Monday.

Mr. C. G. Turner, of Muskegon, is visiting in Owosso while Mr. Turner is at Ashland, Wis., on business.

Col. Byerly has been named as one of the committee to conduct the examination for the West Point cadetship.

Mrs. T. S. Morton went to Ann Arbor, Tuesday morning, to have a tumor removed, at the University hospital.

Miss Maggie Halsey, teacher in the fourth ward school, is quite seriously sick. Miss Edie Manning has charge of her room.

Mrs. Etta Marden left Wednesday for Auburn, Mass., to take charge of a missionary home connected with a college at that place.

Scarlet fever has interfered with the grinding of the educational mill in Oakley, and Principal Hopkins takes a vacation and works for the Detroit Free Press.

H. D. Lyon has had his traveling territory increased and now finds it impossible to get home oftener than once in two weeks. With his added work comes a nice increase in salary.

E. A. Fox, who will be remembered as one of the most successful teachers in Shiawassee county, is now in Muskegon, Michigan, and a registered pharmacist, having charge of a drug store there.

Fred Osburn was summoned to Marquette, Sunday, by a dispatch announcing the sickness of his brother, Hon. C. Y. Osburn, who had an attack of hemorrhage of the stomach. Dispatches received since say that he is better.

Wm. Launstein, of the firm of McArdle & Sinclair, in New Orleans, writes that the south is having very cold weather and that New Orleans recently experienced a snow storm. Business is brightening up and prospects are good for the coming year.

The state board of education has honored the following residents of this county with appointments as visitors to the colleges named: Adrian, Supt. J. W. Simmons; Michigan Female Seminary, Mrs. L. E. Gould; German-American Seminary, H. K. White; Spring Arbor, E. M. Hopkins.

The many friends of Miss Mollie Dady, of Cadillac, gathered at the home of her uncle, M. C. Griffith, on Stewart street Jan. 22, and gave her a complete surprise. Music for the evening was rendered by harp and violin and after a bounteous supper the guests returned to their homes, wishing her many happy returns to Owosso.

At The Harvest of Death.

Nancy A. Fairchild, mother of Mrs. Wm. Broad and Miss Pebe Fairchild, died at the home of her daughter in Portland, Tuesday, aged 73 years. Mrs. Broad left for Portland, Wednesday.

Mrs. Louisa Knill died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Thomas, Monday evening after a short sickness with grippe, aged 59 years. She was the mother of Geo. and Henry Knill, former residents of this city. Funeral services will be held this afternoon.

Mrs. Lydia Drown, for 50 years a resident of Owosso, died at her home in this city, Sunday, after a short sickness with pneumonia, aged 91 years and 9 months. Mrs. Drown was the mother of 16 children, 7 of whom survive here. Those living in Owosso being Clark and Alfred Drown, Mrs. S. A. Crane and Mrs. E. M. Spring. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon by Rev. E. B. Bancroft.

Freeland Westbrook, yard-master of the M. C. railroad in this city, died very suddenly at the home of Wm. Grove on Monday, Sunday evening he complained of not feeling well, but on Monday felt able to go to work. In a short time he was obliged to return home, soon after going to the closet. Not returning after some time a fellow boarder went to the closet and was shocked to find him dead. Dr. Arnold was summoned and pronounced the cause of death to have been apoplexy. Mr. W. was a man of good habits and highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Mrs. Harriet N. Chapell, daughter of Rev. David Millard, was born in West Bloomfield, Ontario Co., York state, Feb. 16, 1825, married Geo. W. Chapell, Oct. 20, 1846, when they moved directly to Dexter, Mich., where they remained ten years, thence they moved to Wayne and in 1857 came to this city. In Dec. 1865, their eldest son, Charlie, was accidentally drowned near the home, which time marks the beginning of the trouble that has caused the long term of separation from her Owosso home. A little over eleven years ago, Aug. 10, 1880, it became necessary to have her removed to Pontiac. Since that time she has remained there, receiving the best attention that faithful attendants and kind and loving friends could give her. A short time before the late fire she became somewhat unwell, and since that time has grown gradually worse, until Monday, Jan. 18, when she passed away. Tuesday she was brought to her former home and on Thursday at 9 P. M. the funeral services were held, Rev. T. E. Heddle officiating, using 1 Thess. IX 18th and part of 15th verses.

Loring's Wall Paper Announcement.

Stipulated by the unprecedented success that attended our efforts during the past few years, I have been encouraged to make even greater exertions for the coming spring trade—of producing the most novel and at the same time practical decorative effects.

One of the difficulties with which many have to contend in buying paper is their inability to match colorings, consequently failing to obtain the best results with goods that in themselves are very desirable. To overcome this difficulty nearly my entire line for the spring trade will be composed of combinations, side wall paper, border and ceiling made to match. This gives my customers the benefits of decorative suggestions by the most talented artists in the United States.

The increasing demand for goods suitable for public buildings, churches, theatres, hotels, etc., has tempted me to buy styles that are adapted to these purposes so that my stock of wall paper for the spring trade of 1892 will be larger and more complete than ever before.
